THE COAST INDIANS.

Evidences of Cannibalism as Practiced Among the Kwagutls on Knight's Inlet.

The Tremendous Degradation of an Unfortunate People—Who is to Blame?

[Especially written for THE TIMES.]

Fearful as are the revelations already made in these letters, the subject of the present writing is one of such unmitigated horror that I wish it well ended.

At Salmon River I saw a canoe towed past my camping place containing a corpse on the way to its burial. I had left the village an hour before, and seen no sign of the presence of the dead. But apart from this common fact of burial within an hour of supposed death, it is undoubtedly true that, if the coffin does not fit, the body is crushed and mutilated until it does. Burial is not by interment, but in the top of a big tree, the lower branches being then cut smoothly away for security. This is done lest at the winter dances the corpse should be stolen and devoured. I saw such a burial take place at Ha-ma-tlil-cullah.

Dr. Franz Boas, a scientific man who has travelled extensively among the Kwa-gutls, states this year in the transactions of the Canadian Royal Society as follows: "One of the most remarkable customs of these (the central) tribes is the cannibalism which is connected with their winter dances. Only members of certain gentes can become cannibals, but each of these must be properly initiated. The Kwa-gutls believe a certain spirit to live in the mountains and that by encountering it the member of a certain family will become cannibal. The latter has certain prerogatives during the season of the winter dances, and during two months is entitled to bite whoever displeases him." The cannibalism of the Tsimpsheans in times past, to which Dr. Boas then refers, is too well known and proved to need recounting here.

I have the account of one who has acted as a secret agent of the government among the Indians, and who is totally reliable. He states that he was present a few winters ago at the eating of a human corpse. The only one ever brought before the courts was associated with the destruction of Port Rupert by a gun-boat. A gentleman reported that when out seal hunting he shot at a woman's corpse by mistake, and found it to be anchored to the bottom. The evidence elicited appears to have proved that this body had been used at a cannibal feast. This is all heresay, however, and probably inaccurate. It is indeed highly improbable that this secret rite should ever have come under official observation, for the Indians have always, in recent times, been very much afraid of being found out by the white people. The books accessible are also very unsatisfactory, their cannibal stories being with one exception full of internal evidences of falsehood. The exception is the account of an eye witness among the Tsimpsheans.

I will now submit the results of my own enquiry among the remoter villages of the Kwa-gutls, premising that great care was used in the selection of witnesses. That the manner and faces of them was carefully considered to detect excitement or exaggeration; that the interpreter was reliable and fully conversant with both languages, and that he started as a skeptic and came home convinced. In Alert Bay and Fort Rupert no satisfaction was to be had, because in presence of the white men the rite of Ha-ma-tsi has become a mere sham.

It was told me that the Ha-ma-tsi is a spirit or ghost, living entirely upon human flesh, far away among the mountains. Certain Indians long ago went away into the woods, and learned of the Ha-ma-tsi, becoming ghouls also. Their families, until recent times, alone possessed the right of becoming initiated by going away fasting in the woods to meet the Ha-ma-tsi. The sole purpose is to show the tribe that they are different from ordinary men and do not care what they eat or what they suffer.

In old times a captive or a slave was killed and presented to the initiate and the older Ha-ma-tsis, who ate the corpse in presence of a general assembly of the people. More recently, although slavery is not wholly extinct, the Indians have become afraid to kill, so are reduced to the stealing of a corpse. This has usually been drying along time, and is described as quite flavourless, the brains being a luxury. After eating the Ha-ma-tsis do not taste food for some days but drink warm water. Up to the time of eating a corpse in public, the initiate, whenever he appears from the woods, bites indiscriminately, women being, however, generally exempt. Formerly the faces were bitten, noses and ears especially; but now the initiate merely lifts the flesh of a man's arm with his teeth, which is sliced off with a knife by a bystander and probably spat out in secret. The father of the initiate pays everybody who has been bitten from two to ten blankets. There are few men in Kwa gutl tribes unscarred by this practice. The Ha-ma-tsi during these ceremonies of the winter dance is stark naked, a heavy plaited rope of cedar bark adorned with tassels being carried, however, on the shoulders. There are from three to twenty Ha-ma-tsis in every village, and one of them will eat of perhaps four or five corpses in a life time. Two very old gentlemen reputed to have eaten twenty. There is no doubt whatever that the Indians implicitly believe that the bundle brought by naked men into their presence is a genuine corpse, and that the flesh is human, and really swallowed. Shams, however, are very common, and the people excessively credulous. Deer or goat flesh is often tied to the human bones and devoured in the dusk, so that the people are all deceived. But this fact does not falsify half the evidence of bodies being eaten now as they undoubtedly were a few years ago. It will be sufficient to cite recent instances.

My interpreter said that when he was a lad, perhaps twenty-five or more years ago, he remembers [illegible] slaves from being killed and eaten.

The winter of Ha-ma-tsi dance was performed at Alert Bay eighteen months ago, goats flesh being eaten from human bones at midnight, and the tribe deceived. Apparently two bodies were devoured at Klawatis that same season.

Three and a half years ago at Mamatilli-cullah a white man was taken by his Indian woman to the winter dance and turned out of doors because, as the woman told him, a corpse was to be eaten. He saw a woman's body taken into the house by three naked men, and went round to the back where through a hole he saw the Ha-ma-tsi holding the body in their arms and biting pieces out. By the long black hair hanging from what seemed to be the head he supposed this was the body of a woman. If this was not human flesh both he and the whole audience were deceived.

A Fort Rupert half-breed woman of excellent character told me she was fully convinced that in many cases no deception was practised. No half-breeds or Indians except my interpreter expressed any doubts.

A Kanaka, a man of very good repute indeed, told me that eight years ago at the head of Knight Inlet, he was admitted to a winter dance and saw three Ha-ma-tsis eat a corpse in presence of the tribe. This evidence appears to me to be very strong on account of the witness's character, and the clearness and reasonable manner of his statements. He told me his story briefly and as one surprised at existence of doubt, but tired of the subject. His wife, Chiefess, a member of a Ha-ma-tsi family, furnished the evidence that convinced my interpreter that the Ha-ma-tsi is not a sham. After describing the origin of the rite in her family, or rather, how it did not originate, this woman stated that some years ago on Knight Inlet, at the winter feasts, she was invited to a feast of berries for women. They were interrupted by the Ha-ma-tsis bringing a human corpse into the house. They were six in number and all naked, her own brother one of them. Attendants cut off strips of flesh from the corpse which were devoured by the Ha-ma-tsis. After eating several such strips her brother got the skull and cut off and ate all the flesh on it. She then went across the house and began to expostulate, but was rebuked. While trying to stop her brother he finished the flesh on the head, but two attendants having split the skull he took the two sides, "like an oyster," and drained off the brains. It will be noted that it would be difficult to cut strips of dear meat from the corpse if the flesh were merely tied on, and that the witness was close up to it, so that no deception could have been practised unknown to her. If she tells the truth the drinking of the brains is entirely convincing evidence. On careful enquiry I find that although a firm adherent of the ancient customs and much given to potlachings, she bears a good character. Before hearing the translation of her words I was struck with the entire sincerity of her manner and countenance.

I was told a number of most horrible stories of self-torture practiced out of bravado during these ceremonies.

In conclusion of these notes on the social condition of the Kwagutl tribes, I will sum up by expressing my entire conviction that there is no influence in practical operation to largely modify the tremendous degradation of these savages. All that is left now is to suggest a remedy for the evils exposed.

PERSONAL.

Items Telling of Movements of Well Known Persons.

Morris Moss and Jas. Brady, mining engineer, left last night for Rock Creek. They will be absent about two weeks.

W. H. Whittaker arrived from Kamloops last evening on a short visit to his relatives in this city.

Major Downie left for San Francisco on Thursday's steamer.

F. S. Barnard, M. P., returned from the mainland last evening on the steamer Islander.

W. L. Cusack and R. B. Emouf were passengers from the mainland on last night's steamer.

Robt. Ward, President of the Board of Trade, returned from Vancouver last evening on the steamer Islander.

Dr. Talmage, the great pulpit orator, is expected to arrive in this city during the early part of next month.

Rev. Donald Fraser, M. A., returned last evening from a visit to the interior.

Supt. Boycraft is at Vancouver on official business.

F. Swiftsbury, of Vancouver, arrived in this city last night on the steamer Islander.

E. Greyell arrived on last night's steamer from Chilliwhack.

D. Robson, city clerk, returned to the Royal City on this morning's steamer.

D. E. Brown, assistant general passenger agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, arrived in this city last evening on the steamer Islander.

Thos. Downie, C. P. R. train dispatcher, arrived from Donald last night on the mainland steamer.

J. W. Campbell, manager of the Mattie Vickers Company, is in the city and has been completing arrangements for the appearance of his company at the Victoria Theatre this evening.

G. W. Kummer, of the Akron, Ohio Daily Beacon, was amongst the arrivals on the steamer Olympian last evening.

Geo. H. Murray, advance agent for Gilmore's "Twelve Temptations," arrived in this city last evening to arrange for the appearance of the dramatic company on Thursday and Friday evenings of next week.

A. L. Maxwell, general agent of the C. R. & N. company, and C. D. Prescott, second vice president of the Northern Pacific Railway company, were in this city on Thursday.

Henry McLachlan, organist of St. Mary's Church, St. Paul, Minnesota, is in this city.

E. H. Heatley, of San Francisco, who is one of the largest shareholders in Hastings Mill, Vancouver, arrived in this city on Wednesday evening. In conversation with a newspaper representative Mr. Heatley expressed great surprise and pleasure at the rapid strides which had, during the past few years, been made by the province and especially by the City of Vancouver. Speaking of the city, he saw for her unlimited possibilities, and he especially admired the solid and substantial way in which it had been built up.

Alex. Begg, a well-known journalist of Seattle, is in this city.

E. G. Prior, M. P., is on the mainland.

The criticisms of the prohibition press and the animadversions of certain officials of California have at length caused Miss Kate Field to send in a resignation of her position as lecturer of the State Viticultural Commission. The resignation has not been accepted.

Hon. Seth Low, ex-mayor of Brooklyn N. Y., went north on the Corona yester, day with his wife, on a pleasure trip. He is one of the most prominent men in the City of Churches. A few years ago Mr. Low was a Napoleon in politics, but he met his Waterloo, like the famous French individual, after a brilliant and comparatively short career. Mr. Low was at one time prominently mentioned for governor of New York state.

Miss Hart of Toronto is guest of Mr. and Mrs J. E. Gardiner.

Capt. McKinnon, lighthouse keeper, has returned from San Francisco after an absence of two months.

Mr. Herbert Kent, who has been ill for some time, is out again.

Principal McLeod, of the high school, and J. P. Smith, went up to Vancouver this morning to spend a portion of the holidays.

H. E. Croasdaile, and O. Hastings arrived from Port Townsend last evening on the steamer Olympian.

THE WIDE WORLD.

The Ripper—Arrest of a Military-Looking Person Supposed to be the Fiend.

Another Gladstonian Triumph—Another Large Addition to the British Navy.

[By Postal Telegraph.]

London, July 19.—A fine military looking Englishman, six feet in height, of fair complexion, was arrested by the police to-day on suspicion of being the murderer of the woman whose mutilated remains were found on Castle alley on Tuesday night. When brought to the police station he confessed he had murdered her with an ordinary knife. He was searched but no weapon was found upon him. He said he lived nowhere having just returned from abroad. His demeanor indicates him to be insane.

BUYING BRICKYARDS.

London, July 19.—A joint stock company was organized here to-day which is of the nature of a trust for the purchase of the principal brickyards in the United States. Negotiations have already practically been opened with George W. Moore, a well-known Michigan attorney, as far as the brickyards of the city of Detroit are concerned, the English syndicate agreeing to purchase the plant and material of several yards there for about $2,500,000. The proposition made includes real estate and the good will of each firm selling out. The brickyards of Detroit are said to have an annual aggregate capacity and output of eighty million brick, worth from six to seven hundred thousand dollars yearly. This capital combination will be of an entirely different character to that recently organized to operate American breweries. The plan is to extinguish the smaller yards and concentrate the business in one or two large yards. New and improved machinery is contemplated which will produce bricks at a reduced price. The syndicate will take charge of the Detroit brick yards within 30 days, according to agreements made.

MORE WAR SHIPS.

London, July 18.—The government has accepted tenders for the construction of seventeen war ships. They will be built at the ship yards on the Clyde, Tyne and Mersey.

GLADSTONIAN VICTORY IN WALES.

London, July 18.—In the parliamentary election to-day in the west division of Carnarvonshire, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Walter Powell, home ruler, Morgan, a Gladstonian, received 4552 votes against 2533 for Drummond. At the last election Powell received 4181.

NORTHERN PACIFIC DIVIDENDS.

New York, July 18.—The Northern Pacific directors, at their monthly meeting to-day, did not declare a dividend on preferred stock, but agreed to formulate a promise of a dividend such as was made in 1887, when the stockholders consented to accept an issue of third mortgage bonds in lieu of dividends. The plan is to issue $15,000,000 of new bonds, but no details will be give out at present.

THE TURF SCANDAL.

London, July 18.—Charles Wood and Henry McKay were to-day warned off all club races by the stewards of the Jockey club. The club also withdrew the license of the Newmarket trainer, R. G. Sherrard. All these men were involved in the charges preferred by Lord Durham against Sir George Chetwynd.

HUNGRY SHARKS.

London, July 19.—Sharks are playing sad havoc with the mackerel fisheries on the south and southwest of the coast of Ireland.

THE PARNELL COMMISSION.

London, July 18—Mr. Barnard Charles Malloy, home rule Member of the commons for Bierre, in a speech at Marylebone last evening stated that the Parnellites possessed undoubted evidence of the existence of a conspiracy behind Pigott, of which Pigott was only the tool. This evidence will startle the English people when published, as it will be at the proper time. It was intended, he said, to lay all the facts before the Parnell commission, where they could be thoroughly sifted by counsel on both sides and their importance duly weighed. But Judge Hannen's outrageous ruling prevented that plan from being carried out.

EARTHQUAKE.

London, July 18—Seven shocks of earthquake were felt on the mainland of Scotland.

BOULANGER CONTRADICTS THEM.

London, July 18—Boulanger declares that the statements made in the indictment against him are a tissue of falsehoods.

"JACK THE RIPPER" RESUMES.

London, July 18.—It is stated that a letter was received by the police before last night's murder in Whitechapel, signed "Jack the Ripper," in which the writer said he was "about to resume his work."

The prisoner's identity is as yet concealed. He has confessed to having committed all the horrible Whitechapel murders, and relates ghastly and indecent details of the various crimes, with the names, dates and all particulars of each with great accuracy. The police are in doubt concerning the man. They believe he is a lunatic and yet he may be a murderer.

PRINCESS AUGUSTA DEAD.

Copenhagen, July 18.—Princess Augusta, a sister of the Queen of Denmark, is dead.

VICTORIOUS HIPPOLYTE.

Port au Prince, July 19.—Hippolyte, the northern leader, is within a mile of the city and has assaulted the extreme outworks. The people are delirious with excitement. Farm houses and villages are being burned by Hippolyte in the very sight of the city. It is rumored that his force numbers 10,000 men. Legitime has every man at the outworks and many women too, and is impressing every man into the ranks capable of carrying a rifle. The United States war ships Kearsarge and Ossipee, the British cruiser Forward and the Spanish cruisers Combs and Sanchez are here, and a French man-of-war is reported on the way. The combined forces are prepared to effect a landing at a moment's notice to protect their interests.

VENTURESOME AERONAUT.

New York, July 18—An experimental trip was made yesterday by E. D. Hogan, an experienced aeronaut, to a controllable air ship. After the ship had risen several hundred feet the propeller fan used for raising and lowering the ship, fell to the ground. The air ship started out toward the ocean.

DEATH.

Denver, July 19—Officer J. Phillips, who was shot by a burglar whom he discovered entering a house on Wednesday morning, is dead. No clue to the murderer has been found.

STORM IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, July 19.—An electrical storm passed over the city last night, flooding cellars and starting several fires.

IN FAVOR OF REPEAL.

New York, July 19—In response to circulars sent to American consuls and missionaries in China, asking their views on the effect of the Chinese Exclusion Act on American interests there, the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce has received a few letters which favor a repeal of the act. They will be read at a meeting.

GENEROUS CHICAGO.

Chicago, July 19.—The first carload of provisions for starving miners and families in Bridewood, Streator, Braceville, Coal City, LaSalle, Spring City, and other mining points in northern Illinois, contributed by several leading merchants and warehousemen of this city, left the Chicago and Acton depot to-day and will be followed by others over the Acton and Rock Island railways as speedily as the cars can be loaded. Congressman Lawler made a personal canvass of the city for the past three days and his appeal on behalf of the suffering and famishing people in the coal district resulted in speedy shipments to the depots named of sufficient food and provisions of all kinds to at least temporarily alleviate the dire hunger and distress of the mining population.

SULLIVAN SOBER.

Pittsburg, July 19.—John L. Sullivan was a passenger on the limited express this morning en route for New York on the Pennsylvania railroad. Neither Sullivan nor any member of the party appeared outside of the car and absolutely refused to admit any one. The Pullman car conductor said Sullivan was sober and no evidence of his Chicago spree was apparent.

ELECTRICAL STORM.

Cincinnati, July 19.—About 3 o'clock this morning a severe electrical storm, which has been hovering over the city broke with great fury. Heavy thunder and intensely vivid lightning woke up the people generally, and rain poured down in torrents. The heavy down pour was the cause of a serious accident at York street and to the canal, the banks of which overflowed and the water was precipitated into houses just below the banks. Five of them overflowed and occupants of first floors were rescued with difficulty. Cellars were filled in the surrounding neighborhood and water ran down York street and Central avenue to a depth of several feet. People in the neighborhood were greatly alarmed and rushed out into the street. No lives were lost but the loss to property is about $60,000.

FIRE RECORD.

Yreka, Cal., July 19.—The Flock hotel and six other buildings at the dep't at Montague were destroyed by fire this morning. Loss, $15,000; small insurance. Origin of fire unknown.

CREIGHTON AGAIN.

San Francisco, July 19.—The sentence of ex-Senator Richard Creighton, the returned jury briber, was postponed this morning for one week from to-morrow.

FOUND DEAD.

Tacoma, W. T., July 19.—C. C. Grant, of Spokane Falls, was found dead on the floor of his room in the Franklin House, on St. Helen avenue, this morning.

MITCHELL FLEES.

New York, July 19.—Charley Mitchell, who seconded Kilrain in his recent fight at Richburg, has fled to Canada. It is stated when he learned Detective Norris was after him with a requisition from Governor Lowery he consulted a lawyer, who informed him he was not safe within the United States, and he therefore decided to get out. It is further stated he left the city Wednesday night on the Erie Railway.

A COUNT DEAD.

Boston, July 19—Early this morning Count Schwabe, well-known throughout the country as the "Soldier's Friend," was found dead at Beechmont, where for the past ten years he spent the summer, living in a little hut on the side of a hill. Throughout the season many notable people from all parts of the country would call upon the Count. His philanthophy during the war could not be forgotten, and many veterans, who called to pay their respects, have much to thank the old Count for. By advice of friends the Count this season abandoned the hut on the hill for quarters in a house on Bradstreet avenue. Last Sunday he was taken ill with heart trouble, from which he never rallied, quietly passing away between midnight and six o'clock this morning, at which hour his attendant found him dead on entering the room.

TO THE TIMES ONLY.

The Governor-General Coming in September—The Press Association go East.

Meeting of the Bank of B. C. Directorate—C. P. R. Connection with Windsor.

[Special to THE TIMES.]

Winnipeg, July 19.—Two Stony Mountain buffaloes have been sold to W. J. H. Starin, a New York capitalist, for a ranch at Albany.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

Dr. J. Lucas, who arrived from England about the middle of June, disappeared two days ago. It is feared he has suicided.

STRANGE LAND SLIDE.

A strange land slide has occurred in St. Boniface. A strip about two hundred feet long, near the convent, has sunk sheer down for about fourteen feet, with a cut shoving a strip of soil between it and the river into the water.

CHILD CREMATED.

Brighton, July 19.—A man was seen leaving the Mennonite church north of here last night, and shortly after smoke issued from the chimney. On examining the stove this morning the head of a child with the body cremated was found.

TORTURED TO DEATH.

Cobourg, Ont., July 19.—The coroner's jury returned a verdict of wilful murder against Ellen Breeze, wife of George Breeze, who died suddenly in May last. A daughter of the murdered man testified that for four days and four nights she saw her unfortunate father slowly and cruelly tortured to death by having rat poison administered to him by his wife. The woman has been arrested.

AN UNQUENCHABLE FIRE.

Rathvee, July 19.—The gas well is still burning furiously, despite endeavors of the Ohio gas experts to quench it. The heat is so intense that no one can go near the well to rig up a contrivance for putting out the fire.

NEW C. P. R. CONNECTION.

Windsor, Ont., July 19.—The C. P. R. officials say their trains will be running into Windsor regularly by the first or middle of October.

FIRE IN SARNIA.

Sarnia, July 19.—The large store house of the Sarnia Oil Co. burned down at 2 o'clock this morning.

CANADIAN PRESS ASSOCIATION.

Toronto, July 19.—The Canadian Press Association elected Roy V. Somerville, of Dundas, president and went off to the maritime provinces on its annual excursion.

FROM OTTAWA.

Meeting of the Bank of British Columbia Directors To-Day.

[Special to THE TIMES.]

Ottawa, July 19.—A special from London says: "At a meeting of the Bank of British Columbia directors to-day an interim dividend of six per cent. per annum, and a bonus of one per cent. were adopted. Sir Charles Tupper congratulated the shareholders and declared the prospects in British Columbia and throughout the rest of Canada were splendid.

Lord Stanly and party goes to British Columbia in September.

THE LABOR CONGRESS.

Further Fights at Each Evening Meetings.

London, July 18.—The Possibilists met again at Paris to-day, and continued the discussion of yesterday upon the condition of the working classes in the different countries of the civilized world. To-morrow the subject of international legislation for the amelioration of the condition of the wageworker will be taken up. The Marxists devoted the greater part of to-day's session to the reading of reports from the various nations represented upon the progress made by the socialists' propaganda within the year. The two factions still meet in separate halls, and the prospect is that they will continue so to do, there being apparently some unreasonable objection to the much talked of union between them. The failure to effect a fusion causes much bitterness within the ranks of both Marxists and Possibilists.

The congress, to-day, passed a series of resolutions very sweeping in their scope. Among other things the resolutions declared in favor of a universal maximum of eight hours for a day's labor, one holiday every week and the unconditional suppression of all labor by children under 14 years of age.

Kangaroo.

A fine lot of the above skins just received, good for tender feet and warm weather, from which boots and shoes are made to order in every style. A fit or no sale. Fine French calf, kid, Russian and Morocco always on hand. Repairing done on the premises promptly. H. MANSELL, 95 Government street, Victoria.

Schlesinger & Sachse Pianos.

We have just received a consignment of the above pianos direct from the factory. These are the best instruments made in Germany, and are without doubt the best German pianos ever imported into this country. M. W. Waitt & Co.

SALISBURY AND IMPERIAL FEDERATION.

Lord SALISBURY, in a speech at Mile-end the other night, told his hearers "that they must not expect that the day would ever come when the colonies would become a federation in the same sense as the United States, but he hoped that by common agreement the present difficulties would be removed. As to Irish affairs," he said, "that it was appalling to think that years hence sons and grandsons might still be discussing the Irish problem with nothing new to say or suggest." Of SALISBURY'S opinion on the Irish question we can expect no less than the declaration above given. He is committed to the perpetuation of the status quo in Ireland, and like many another man who stakes his political success on a single policy, his energies have become so concentrated on the question at issue that he fails to note the signs of the times. If, however, we cannot but regard him in error in his attitude on Home Rule, he at least displays good sense in his treatment of the Imperial Federation question. SALISBURY'S Irish policy is the effect of his non-sentimentalism. He is an intensely practical man. He does not seem to be actuated by any other motive in his political measures than those of pure utility, and it is pretty safe to say that a patriotism so tempered is in the long run that which is productive of the greatest benefits. The Imperial Federation "fad" judged as a measure of utility is as chimerical as NAD EL JUMI'S dream of universal conquest, or, to give the comparison a local flavor, as improbable as a Colonistic statement of Robsonian disinterestedness. There is much to commend in Imperial Federation. It is a grand scheme, as sublime as it is gigantic in its proportions. We could wish it was practicable. If England is afraid of getting worsted in her squabbles with European powers, and would care to enter into an agreement with her children that they stick to her through thick and thin, and for better or worse (she footing the bills) there are no objections. England deserves this much of her colonies. Under no consideration should her colonies permit her to undergo humiliation and loss of prestige through the adventitious chances of war. But England and her colonies represented in one parliament would present a veritable babel. Legislation would lag through the friction of tongues, and the clamor of adverse interests. SALISBURY may be determined to down the Irish, but he does not propose to contribute to the disintegration of the British Empire by making it too ponderous to be capable of action. If unity can be had without ponderosity, let us have it. If it cannot be had then let us remain as we are, bound by fraternal ties, but transacting business over our own signatures.

THERESA JENKINS, OF WYOMING.

Since among our maids and matrons there seems to be no unwillingness to plod on through this "vale of tears" as heaven and nature intended they should, as sweethearts and wives, leaving politics to be attended to by "horrid men," it would appear superfluous to raise the subject of "woman suffrage." We might better set on the principle that it is better to let "sleeping dogs lie." The question, however, has been treated negatively by one hundred eminent English women, and in the States the periodicals have discussed it pro and con. Wyoming has taken a hand in the fray, and why not we, though the female environment be tranquil, contribute our mite to this all-absorbing topic. Professor CAPS, in his essay, "The Relation of the Sexes to Government," remarks with a perspicuousness which will send the common house wife to the dictionary all of a flutter, "that being free from the disabilities imposed by maternity, the male could acquire a greater mastery over his environment than the female." To this assumption, THERESA A. JENKINS, of Cheyenne, Wyo'ming, takes exceptions. She points out that in the case of animals, "the female provides for its offspring," that "the Kardish women do all the work;" that "Indian women are drudges," and finally "that in the Highlands of Scotland the women harvest the oats while the men bask in the sunshine or angle in the streams." This is what JENKINS calls acquiring a mastery over the environment. Next she proceeds to point out that in the "garden of Eden we find, instead of Adam choicing an apple down the throat of Eve, Eve persuading Adam to partake, and here diplomacy wins. It can not be denied by our most adverse opponents that during the last half century women has taken possession of educational government. The teachers of the United States to-day are women. Our sex governs the schools throughout this broad land, and we maintain this government, not through force, but through tact or diplomacy." Finally, to clinch her argument, she holds that "women may reform man." Man having demonstrated that he cannot reform himself, somebody must undertake the onerous task, and if not woman, who? Woman, she concludes, has no business with the ballot, unless the primary purpose is the reformation of man. We have no specific knowledge of how much has been accomplished toward the reformation of men in Wyoming, nor will we have until the next United States census is complete, but if men are as incorrigibly, non-progressive in a territory where female suffrage has been in vogue for more than a decade, as they are in older portions of the globe (and we have no reason to think otherwise) we would advise JENKINS to employ some other method of reforming him than by the ballot. JENKINS' assumption that the reformation of men may be accomplished by the extension of the ballot to woman is as delightfully egotistical as it is absurd, and unwarranted by past experience. The ballot has never yet produced reform; it has simply emphasized reform. So soon as reform has been accomplished the ballot has been used as an acknowledgment of it, and to give it practical effect. But the funny part of the business is JENKINS posing as a reformer and being in need of reformation herself.

NAD EL JUMI.

NAD EL JUMI has a good sized contract on his hands. He has undertaken to "conquer the world," and was his strength equal to his vanity, the world indeed would be in need of a CHARLES MARTEL or two. The day is passed, however, when barbarians may arrogate to themselves the suggestive title "the scourge of God." The introduction of gunpowder as a factor in war, materially altered fighting methods. With a rifle in his hand the pigmy is as good as the giant. Mere brute force spends its strength in vain against the murderous lead. For mere physical bravery, if contempt of life expresses that condition, NAD EL JUMI commands without doubt, the bravest troops in the world. They are imbued with fanatic spirit which formerly animated the legions of MAHOMMET in their combats with the Romans. We can conceive of NAD EL JUMI addressing his fiery but motley array of warriors in the suggestive language with which the early Mahommedan generals used to address their troops on going into battle against the "Christian dogs." "Paradise is before you, the devil and hellfire behind you," at least so says GIBBON. The onslaught of this fierce soldiery of Moslem was irresistible, and the Romans became so timid of them at last that they adopted the motto, "He who fights and runs away will live to fight another day," and put it in practice to such a degree as to earn general contempt. But contemptuous of death as the modern Arab is, and worthy to succeed if individual prowess is a virtue, he cannot hope to overcome the modern fire-arm which is now employed against him. He battles now against a force which in the hands of coward fingers may lay him low. Some temporary successes he may gain if he can succeed in getting close enough to his adversary to engage in a hand-to-hand grapple. In the long run, however, the MARTINI-HENRY will get the best of him, and such as are left will conclude to defer the subjugation of the world until a more convenient period.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A letter in the Chicago News contains an insulting reference to Victoria, upon which the Winnipeg Free Press pertinently remarks, "this is evidently Vancouver's doing." The Free Press evidently believes that the lying correspondent of the Canadian-American, in Vancouver, is still in business.

Queen Victoria is in the habit of keeping rooms, which have been occupied by deceased relatives, locked up. The apartments at Claremont, in which Princess Charlotte died more than seventy years ago, are closed, and nobody is allowed to use them. Prince Albert's apartments at Windsor, Osborne and Balmoral are all kept precisely as they were when he was alive, and on the wall of the room in which he died there is a tablet, with the inscription recording the fact that "this apartment was the scene of his demise." John Brown's rooms at Windsor have also been closed since his death.

The vacancy on the supreme court bench is still an "aching void." Several members of the local bar are credited with a desire to fill the vacuum, although, it was generally believed that the appointment of county court judges would render a fifth wheel to the supreme judicial coach unnecessary. Mr. Drake, a gentleman who has many of the qualifications that adorn the bench, is understood to be not unwilling to retire from the bar, and spend the remainder of a busy and useful life in dispensing unstrained justice to a litigious and perverse people. But there is an obstacle in the way. The next appointee will, of course, be the junior member, and as such, and according to all rules of precedence, he will be domiciled at Kamloops, at least until the long promised county court judges are appointed. Residence at the "inland capital" is, to most men, a constant delight, but to a lawyer, who dreads idle hours that conduce to reflection and obtruding reminiscences, "the busy haunts of men" about Bastion Square are preferable. It is therefore not improbable that the appointment of a successor to the late Hon. Justice Gray may depend to some extent upon the willingness of the candidate to reside for a time each year in the interior, and thus the rural predilections of a second rate lawyer may count for something in a race against the profound learning of the eminent legist who is at present first choice in the pools.

CITY AND PROVINCE.

—Nature exceeds nurture.

—The lungs, liver, kidneys, bowels, &c., act as so many waste gates for the escape of effete matter and gases from the body. The use of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery helps them to discharge their duty. Mr. W. H. Lester, H. M. Customs, Toronto, writes: "I have personally tested the health-giving properties of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, and can testify as to its great value."

—Each day is a solemn day.

—Volumes of bombast have been published about the multifarious and irreconcilable effects of many proprietary remedies. The proprietors of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery content themselves with facts susceptible of proof. They state their purifier to be what it has proved itself to be, an eradicator of dyspepsia, constipation, liver and kidney troubles, and a fine general alterative.

—One stroke fells not an oak.

—Messrs. Parker & Laird, of Hillsdale, write: "Our Mr. Laird having occasion to visit Scotland, and knowing the excellent qualities of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, concluded to take some with him, and the result has been very astonishing. We may say that in several instances it has effected cures when ailments had been pronounced incurable by eminent practitioners."

—Hold on; hold fast; hold out.

—Just think of it—you can relieve the twinges of rheumatism, or the most painful attack of neuralgia—you can check a cough, and heal broken or bruised skin, with a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, costing only 25 cents.

—Those who have known real grief seldom seem sad.

—There is nothing equal to Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator for destroying worms. No article of its kind has given such satisfaction.

—"Keep thy house and thy house will keep thee."

—Holloway's Corn Cure is the medicine to remove all kinds of corns and warts, and only costs the small sum of twenty-five cents.

—The power of character lies in its truthfulness.

The Power that Moves the World

FIRST ANNUAL TOUR

—OF—

D. McLENNAN

—OF—

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.

THIS WONDERFUL MASTER OF THE healing art has arrived in the city, where he intends to remain for a short time, to cure the sick and afflicted of this vicinity. He comes to us laden with testimonials from the leading citizens of California and the Sound. In San Francisco he has practiced for the past sixteen years, and the authenticated reports of some of his cures seem nothing short of miraculous. He uses no medicine and performs his cures mostly by the WONDERFUL POWER OF MAGNETISM, the gift of but few men on earth. This is the only method of treatment that restores the life-giving principle, magnetism, to the system, thereby increasing the vital powers and electrifying the nervous system, sending the blood coursing and bounding through the veins, withdrawing and allaying in a few minutes all pains and aches from whatever source.

The disease which yield most readily to the curative agency of this method, as practiced by McLennan, are: Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Deafness, Eruptions, Gravel, Paralysis, Loss of Voice, Wakefulness, Nausea, Dropsy, Fits, Piles, Scrofula, Swellings, Sores, Spinal Complaints, Cold Feet and Hands, Biliousness, Contracted Limbs, Diseased Kidneys, Erysipelas, Nervous Depression, St. Vitus's Dance, Weak and Failing Limbs, Mental Depression, Diseases of the Brain, Dyspepsia, Diabetes, Stricture, Impotency, Tape Worm, Carbuncles, Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Liver Complaint, seminal Weakness, Falling of the Womb, Catarrh, Heart Disease, Fever Sores, Ulcerated Throat, Rheumatism, Swollen Joints, Weak Lungs (Goit, Goitre, Croup, Diseases of the Eye, Neuralgia, Tumors, Tetters, Cancers, White Swellings, Leucorrhœa, Ague and Fever, Milk Leg, etc.

CLEANING OUT THE GANG.

SOME STIRRING SCENES IN THE EARLY DAYS OF RAWLINS, WY. T.

Wild Times in the West, When Robberies Were Openly Planned—The Lynching of Lacey and Opium Bob—Carter Allowed to Escape Because He Was Half Decent.

Each Easter Sunday a majority of the citizens of the little town of Rawlins, Wy. T., walk out to the stock yards, gaze at the high fences and great gates of the strong pens and return to their homes. Of course, the visit has its significance. It is in commemoration of Wyoming's only double lynching, an event which had the salutary effect of wresting unlimited authority of power from a desperate and lawless gang of thieves and murderers.

The town of Rawlins is quite enough now, but eight years ago it was one of the liveliest of the many lawless communities. Every other house was a gambling hell and the intervening buildings were dance halls of the worst sort. There were three variety theatres in full blast, with club and wine rooms attached.

The auditorium of one of these two dens—Lavin's Palace—was a tent. Serious brawls here were of nightly occurrence, and men were frequently wounded and occasionally killed. At the firing of the first shot there was always a grand scattering of non-combatants. Those nearest the walls whipped out knives, slashed half inches in the canvas and leaped through the improvised exits. In time there wasn't a yard of intact material in the tent.

THE LEADERS AND THEIR HAUNTS.

The recognized leaders of the thugs and gamblers were Lacey, Opium Bob and Carter. It was a strong triumvirate, and their edicts were law. Lacey had been a heavyweight prize fighter, and had killed a man in a bar room row in New Mexico. Opium Bob came from Chicago, was a general crook and a finished card sharp. He was the director of the operations of the gang—prime minister to Lacey's rex. Carter had been range foreman for a big cattle outfit, but was discharged after months of dissipation and neglect of his duties. He was the "gun fighter" of the party, was quick as wink with his revolver, an excellent shot and a stranger to fear. Carter came from Texas.

This gang halted at nothing. They stole cattle and horses by the herd, held up stage coaches, burglarized, sandbagged and cheated at cards. They robbed half the stores in town, but no one dared complain. Several times they made men "stand and deliver" in broad daylight. The reputation of the town became so bad that drummers did their soliciting by mail, and the doors of the passenger coaches were locked while trains halted for as brief a time as possible. A prominent citizen suggested that the government be called upon for assistance. His house was burned to the ground that night.

Scott Lilly, a tin horn gambler and opium fiend, who was regarded as only a hanger on, was the traitor in the Lacey camp. Early one morning he confided to the sheriff, Joe Miller, that on that very night the gang purposed cracking the safes of the Hugus Commercial company, at Rawlins, and Fort Steele, a military post twenty miles away. There were no banks in the country at that time, and the repositories in town and at the post trader's store contained large sums of money. Miller notified the commander at Fort Steele, and he answered that the raiders would be properly received. Then the courageous sheriff, determined to take a stand against the desperadoes, enlisted and organized a formidable posse. Lacey heard of this, but declared that the "trick should be turned" at all events.

The gang fell to drinking during the day and there were several serious conflicts between citizens and members of the lawless mob. Late in the afternoon Miller and a pair of deputies rushed into a Chinese wash house, where a lively row was in progress. Lacey, Opium Bob and Carter, drunk with opium, had beaten one Chinaman to insensibility and were making the same use of his partner. The sheriff and his companions leveled their six-shooters at the trio and easily captured them, as the men were completely off guard. These deputies were Bill Findly and Charles Landenberger. The former had killed a man who refused to come to a "hands up." He was subsequently sergeant-at-arms for the territorial house of representatives. Landenberger was a stock detective.

THEIR TOES TOUCHED THE GROUND.

The officers hurried their prisoners to the county jail and the backbone of the worst organization which ever flourished in the west was broken. The joy of the respectable element was ill concealed and knew no bounds. Resentment was deep in their breasts. In power once more they proceeded to rid the town of the objectionable population. More than 100 members of the gang were forced to walk from the place.

During the progress of a public meeting in celebration of the redemption of the town news was brought that the two Chinamen beaten by the leaders of the gang were dead. A lynching party was publicly organized, and, after securing arms and ropes, the avengers marched to the county jail, singing on the way and carrying lanterns.

Findly and Landenberger were guarding the prisoners by direction of Miller. Of course they were not foolish enough to resist the stranglers, and Lacey, Opium Bob and Carter, wearing handcuffs, were soon heading a procession to the stock yards. The ceremonies here were brief. Lacey and Bob were helpless with fear, and Carter announced that he had nothing to say. Now, the latter had been a very decent sort of a fellow and had some stanch friends in the crowd. It is small wonder, then, that just an instant before the word to take the slack out of the ropes was given, the noose was lifted over his head and he was off into the sage brush and through the darkness. It was utterly useless to hunt for him at that time.

Lacey and Opium Bob were strangled to death. When they ceased gasping, kicking and swinging their arms, the rope ends were fastened to the fence on either side of the excellent scaffold made by building a walk over one of the stockyard gates.

All this occurred the day and night preceding Easter Sunday. The great Christian feast day was not observed as usual at Rawlins that year. Lacey and Bob were not cut down until evening. They were black in the face, eyes protruded and tongues "lolled." Worst of all, the sinister executioners had been careless, and the toes of the men touched the ground. Their punishment was awful. They died in frightful agony.—Cheyenne (Wy. T.) Cor. St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

LANDING A BIG STURGEON.

An Exciting Time with a Fish Nearly as Long as a Man.

Recently I was putting in an afternoon at Petaluma creek, fishing for salmon trout or anything else. It is a tide water stream, empying into San Pablo bay, and during a good portion of the year it is frequented by a variety of salt water fishes. The sturgeon is a sly biter, and sometimes "mouths" the bait ten or fifteen minutes before taking hold. On this occasion I had baited with a small smelt and thrown into deep water from a small wharf. The wind was blowing a gale, so it was hard to tell when one had a bite. The poles were scattered along the wharf taking care of themselves, when one of them began to act queer. The line would slacken slowly for a few inches, then grow taut, the tip of the pole bending, then the line would slacken again. It did this for several minutes without change, and I could not make up my mind whether to pull or not. Then suddenly the line slackened several feet. This is almost a sure indication of a sturgeon. Quick as possible I struck and felt the hook stick into something distressingly like a snag, it seemed so heavy and sluggish; but you "can't most always sometimes tell."

Slowly something below seemed to wake up, for all the world like a locomotive moving a heavy train. Then, as it gained headway, it got madder and madder, and the reel hummed louder and louder, until it screamed like a little fiend. Two hundred feet of line ran out in a few seconds, and then, with a splash as if a horse had fallen into the water, three feet of big, drab colored fish plunged into the air. He was evidently too big to jump out at once. Then he started back up stream, and, in spite of all the strain I dared put on him, ran out nearly every foot of the line from the reel. My heart was in my mouth for fear of an accident, but he stopped just at the right time. This fish fought like a demon for one hour and a half actual time, and seemed determined not to come to gaff.

The Canadian Pacific Land and Mortgage Company, Limited, (Foreign).

Registered this 10th day of July, 1889.

CERTIFICATE OF REGISTRATION.

THIS IS TO CERTIFY THAT I HAVE THIS day registered "The Canadian Pacific Land and Mortgage Company, Limited, (Foreign)" under the "Companies' Act," Part IV. Registration of Foreign Companies.

The objects for which the Company is established are:

1. To purchase, take under any concession, lease, or in exchange, hire or otherwise acquire, settle, improve, farm and cultivate lands of any tenure, franchises and hereditaments situate in the Dominion of Canada, the United States of North America, or elsewhere, including any mines, minerals, ships, steamboats, barges, and other vessels, engines, railway wagons, tanks, reservoirs, manufacturing plant, apparatus and stock in trade, and any other real and personal property of whatever description, whether the same be unincumbered or subject to any mortgage, charge, lien, easements, privileges, licenses, concessions or otherwise, and to develop the resources of any such properties by building any kind of structure thereupon, planting, reclaiming, clearing, mining, quarrying, excavating, damming, draining, farming, and otherwise dealing with and working the same, and to stock lands and farms, and to breed, grow and deal in all kinds of stock, cattle, horses, sheep and produce, and to erect and maintain therefor suitable buildings and structures, including slaughtering, refrigerating, and converting establishments.

2. To invest money by way of advance, or loan of interest to any person or persons, or corporation, upon the security of any property and securities whatever, real or personal, including produce, crops and manufactures, government and all other stocks, bonds, mortgages, or securities, whether British, colonial, or foreign, and generally to buy, manufacture, deal in and sell all kinds of goods, chattels, merchandise, produce and effects.

3. To aid, encourage and promote immigration, emigration and colonization, and for such purposes to lend and grant any sums of money, and to act as agents therefor.

4. To work, win, convert, sell, use or otherwise deal with all or any mineral property of the Company, to construct or acquire, take concessions of purchase or lease, hire, maintain, improve, work and use, or aid in, or subscribe towards the construction, maintenance, improvement and working of roads, ways, streets, tramways, wire tramways, electric or other power, telegraph and telephonic lines and works, or other means of communication or appliances of a similar nature, railways, railway stock, locomotives, engines, docks, piers, harbors, quays, wharves, landing stages, jetties, slips, stores, bridges, canals, channels, wells, buoys, lights and beacons, viaducts, aqueducts, water works, fumes, culverts, ditches, warehouses, factories, shops, churches, chapels, schools, libraries, institutes, inns, foundries, brick kilns, reduction works, gas and water works, electric lighting or power works, hotels, mills, undertakings, works, and other buildings and structures, of every description, and for the above purposes to enter into and carry into effect any contracts, and apply for, accept, and carry into effect such concessions, licenses or authorities as may be deemed necessary or advisable.

5. To acquire running powers, rights or easements over and to make arrangements with any companies or persons for the joint working of any railway, tramway, or line of electric wire, or other similar means of communication.

6. To build, purchase, charter, hire or otherwise acquire, maintain, repair and use steam and other ships and vessels, and to carry on the business of ship owners, lightermen, wharfingers, dock owners, warehousemen, ship chandlers, commission and shipping agents, and to levy cranage, anchorage, lighterage and other dues and tolls, either in connection with the other businesses of the Company, or as an independent source of profit.

7. To transact all manner of agency and commission business, and in particular to act as agents for any persons or corporation in the purchase, sale, or management in any way of lands, hereditaments and other property in the Dominion of Canada, the United States of North America, or elsewhere, where the Company may for the time then being be carrying on business, and to carry on the business of general, commercial, mercantile, shipping or forwarding agents, or agents for any railway, steamship, or other company.

8. To accept and hold any property whatsoever upon any trust whatever, and to make advances against the same, and to issue debentures there against, and to act as trustees, attorneys or agents of or for any persons, living or dead, or of any company, corporation, public body or supreme government, and also as real or personal representatives of any deceased persons.

9. To transact all business connected with the investment and loan of money at interest, to receive money on deposit, and generally to transact and carry on every description of banking, discount, exchange and financial business.

10. To make, draw, accept, indorse, discount and execute promissory notes, bills of exchange, and other negotiable instruments.

11. To build, lay out, settle, colonize and develop towns and villages on the lands acquired or controlled by the Company from time to time.

12. To purchase or otherwise acquire the exclusive or limited right to use information as regards any inventions, whether patented or not, which may seem capable of being used for any purposes of the Company, or the acquisition of which may seem calculated, directly or indirectly, to benefit the Company, and to acquire any grants, charters, concessions, patents, patent rights, monopolies, brevets d'inventions, copyrights or licenses, and to use, exercise, develop, grant licenses in respect of, or otherwise turn to account the property, rights and information acquired.

13. To take or otherwise acquire, and hold or sell shares, stock, debentures, or any other interest in any other company, whether British or foreign, in which the liability of the members is limited, having objects altogether or in part similar to those of this Company, or carrying on any business capable of being conducted so as directly or indirectly to benefit this Company.

14. To purchase or otherwise acquire or undertake all or any part of the business, property and liabilities of any company, corporation, society, partnership or persons carrying on, or about to carry on, any business which this Company is authorized to carry on, or which is in any respect similar to the business for the time being of this Company, or which is capable of being conducted so as directly or indirectly to benefit this Company, and to make and carry into effect arrangements with respect to the sharing of profits, union of interests or amalgamation, either in whole or in part, of this Company with any such company, corporation, society, partnership or persons.

15. To dispose of by sale, lease, underlease, exchange, surrender, mortgage or otherwise absolutely, conditionally, or for any limited interest, all or any part of the undertaking, property, rights or privileges of the Company as a going concern or otherwise, to any public body, company, society or association, or to any person or persons, and in particular to any other company having objects altogether or in part similar to those of this Company, and to accept as the consideration, or part of the consideration for such disposal money, stock, shares, debentures or other securities, either for distribution in specie among the members or otherwise.

16. To subscribe for, take, acquire, hold and sell the stock, shares, scrip, certificates, bonds, obligations, debentures and securities of any other company, or of any supreme, municipal, public or local board or authority.

17. To borrow and raise money for the purposes of the Company in such manner and upon such terms as the Company shall think fit, and to secure the repayment thereof by bonds or debentures, or by redeemable or unredeemable debenture stock (such bonds, debentures and debenture stock being made payable to bearer or otherwise) or by any other instruments, or by bills of exchange, or promissory notes, or in such other manner as may be determined, and for any such purposes to charge all or any part of the property of the Company (both present and future), including the uncalled capital.

18. To obtain any provisional order or Act of Parliament, or legislative provision, decree or order of any colony, foreign government, body or authority, to incorporate the members as a body politic or corporate, in accordance with the laws and constitution of any country or state in which the Company shall be carrying on, or be desirous of carrying on, any of its operations, and to take all steps and do all things necessary to give the Company, or any company subsidiary thereto, a legal domicile in any such country or state, and such legislative powers as will facilitate the carrying into effect of the objects of the Company therein.

19. To give any guarantee of whatever description in relation to the stock, shares, debentures or other securities or obligations of any company or supreme, public, municipal or local body or authority, and generally to guarantee the performance of any covenant or obligation.

20. To transact all business connected with the investment and loan of money at interest.

21. To allot the shares of the Company credited as fully or partly paid up as the whole or part of the purchase price for any property purchased by the Company, or for any valuable consideration.

22. To appropriate and apply such parts of the capital of the Company as may be expedient to the payment of such brokerage, discounts and other expenses as may be deemed incidental to the formation and promotion of the Company, and the placing of its shares and debentures, or any part thereof.

23. To aid any government or state, or any municipal, local or other body politic or corporate, or company or association, or individuals with capital, credit, means or resources, for the prosecution of any works, undertakings, projects or enterprises.

24. To do all or any of the above things in any part of the world, and either alone or in partnership or conjunction with any person or other association, and either as principals or agents, and to contract for the carrying on of any operation connected with the Company's business by any person or other association.

25. To carry out the objects comprised in each paragraph of this clause in as full and ample a manner and construed in as wide a sense as they would be construed if each paragraph of this clause defined the objects of a separate, distinct and independent company, and so that such objects shall not, except where otherwise expressed in such paragraph, be restricted by reference to the objects indicated in any other paragraph.

26. To do all such other things as are incidental or conducive to the attainment of the above objects, or any of them, or which the Company shall consider incidental or conclusive to the attainment of the above objects, or any of them, and so that the word "company" in this memorandum shall be deemed to include any partnership or other body of persons, whether corporate or incorporate, and wherever domiciled.

The amount of capital stock of the said Company is £250,000, divided into 25,000 shares of £10 each.

The place of business of the said Company is located at the City of Victoria, in the Province of British Columbia.

In testimony whereof I have hereto set my hand and affixed my seal of office this 10th day of July, 1889, at the City of Victoria, in the Province of British Columbia.

THE BRITISH COLUMBIA FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.

TAKES RISKS ON THE CASH OR MUTUAL PLANS.

As this is a Home Company, organized by British Columbians for the two-fold purpose of giving cheap insurance and keeping the money in this Province, it commends itself to the support of every insurer desiring the prosperity of this country.

In Ontario, the system of insurance, which is similar to that adopted by this Company, has been in highly successful operation for the past fifty years, and it has proved to be a great advantage over rumour to it, by reducing the cost of insurance, and it is estimated that over three-fourths of the insurance effected in Ontario is carried by mutual companies.

—The Albany Herald says of the Chicago Comedy Company: "The company is first class; many people could hardly believe that such a great performance could be given at such popular prices, and without a doubt they will play to crowded houses during the week. The "Diamond Mystery" will be produced at the Philharmonic on Monday evening by the company.

—At 6:30 o'clock last evening Henry Jewell's horse ran away from the owner's store, at the corner of Douglas and Yates streets. A small boy was in the wagon at the time and was thrown out. The horse ran to Pandora street and broke away from the rig. Later in the evening three small boys in a buggy barely missed running over a child at the corner of Douglas and Pandora streets. Owners of horses should be prevented from allowing children to drive around the streets.

MRS. ALLEN ON TRIAL.

She Excites Sympathy by Bringing "Baby" Allen into Court.

The trial of Mrs. Minnie Allen, the notorious red-haired woman, was began late on Wednesday afternoon. The jury was drawn and the case postponed until Thursday. Mrs Allen was indicted on two charges of burglary and one of grand larceny.

"Baby" Allen was at court in the morning, but he made so much noise, that he was left at the county jail in the afternoon. Mrs. Allen was ably defended by Attorneys Applegate and Titlow. The courtroom was crowded with people anxious to hear the evidence. Mrs. Allen's testimony was very short. She said that the baby picked the pocketbook up at the Massasoit House, and that she first saw it in his possession. The jury retired shortly after 4 o'clock. Mrs. Allen has yet to be tried on two charges of grand larceny.

Handsome Boat.

A beautiful double scull row boat arrived from the east last night for Capt. N. P. Snowden. It was manufactured by the Shaw Bros., Brockville, Ont. It is said this style of boats, which are very pretty but light, can be laid down here for less than $75. Several have already been imported by those addicted to boat riding.

Western Railway.

The Board of Aldermen will meet the promoters of the Canadian Western Central Railway Company this evening in Mayor Grant's office. The meeting will be private.

The Weather.

The mercury which has sporting itself down in the vicinity of 70° for some days, came up to 80° and a degree or two higher to-day. Saanich farmers say that this is the warmest summer for some years. The crops are in good condition.

A Handsome Wedding Present.

The names of candidates for the set of furniture given by the Foresters' Fete committee will be kept secret, and should there be more than one applicant for same, lots will be drawn a week previous, the successful ones being privately notified of the result.

Coming North.

San Francisco, July 19.—The City of Puebla sailed this morning with the following passengers for Victoria: Rev. D. Jennings, H. B. Lewis, Mrs. H. C. Beresford, Mrs. E. Whitworth, E. M. Childs and wife, Mrs. J. B. Smith, Mrs. W. L. Johnson, W. W. Farlep, W. Wilson, Mrs. A. Webster.

Attempted Burglary.

A young man named Alex. Ross is required by the police for breaking into Turner, Beeton & Co.'s warerooms on July 13th. He was seen on the premises by an employee and was allowed to depart through a misunderstanding. He immediately left the city for parts unknown.

Dry Dock Notes.

The steamship Corona came out of the dry dock about 6:30 last evening. The work of putting on a new blade to her propeller was effected with the utmost celerity.

The C. P. N. steamers Islander and Premier will both enter the dock on Sunday morning next.

Action for Libel.

Mr. J. N. Muir has brought an action for libel against Mr. S. D. Pope, superintendent of education. It is also understood that an injunction is asked for by Mr. Muir restraining the latter from taking away his (Mr. Muir's) certificate to teach in this province. The alleged libel is said to be contained in a letter written by the superintendent to the plaintiff.

Bank of B. C.

At the Bank of British Columbia meeting in London on the 18th, a dividend of 6 per cent. and a bonus of 1 per cent. was declared. The report was adopted. Sir Charles Tupper commented on the prosperous condition of the Bank. He said his recent revisit to the Pacific Coast convinced him that British Columbia was a splendid province.

A "Colonist Fact."

A local in this morning's Colonist states that the Y. P. L. A. of the First Presbyterian Church picnicked on Wednesday evening at Sailor Bay, and that a violinist formed one of the party to furnish music for dancing. The Y. P. L. A. repudiate the statement. They have not held a picnic at any place this season although they purpose doing so in the near future.

Freezing Salmon.

Ald. S. L. Kelly is busily engaged in fitting up his ice manufacturing machinery on Spratt's wharf. The works will be in operation in a few weeks and a good supply of clear ice will be placed in the market. The machinery to be used is the best procurable in the eastern markets and a large trade in frozen salmon with California and Eastern Canada will result from the enterprise of our worthy citizen.

Social.

The managing committee of the Gorge Road Methodist Church recently decided to hold a magnificent "Fruit and Ice Cream Social," and the affair will take place next Tuesday evening. Tempting refreshments will be provided by the ladies of the church, after which an unusually attractive programme of vocal and instrumental music, addresses, etc., will be rendered in the church. Admission has been placed at the nominal sum of 25 cents, and a sociable good time is expected.

The Best Thing in Hay Stacks.

Mr. J. J. Russell otherwise "Lord John" has just completed what he describes as the biggest hay stack ever built on Vancouver Island and the biggest crop of hay gathered on one farm on the island. The dimensions of the stack is as follows: Length 186 feet, height, 28 feet, width, 25 feet and containing 225 tons. In addition to this "Lord John" says he will have about 1700 bushels of grain and yet he has not a quarter of the farm under cultivation.

Mattie Vickers.

The Vancouver News-Advertiser says that Miss Vickers, from the first time she made her appearance in the first act, captured her auditors and the specialty features and songs and dances won continuous applause, climaxing in an ethusiastic call at the end of the second act. Miss Vickers includes in the attractive features of her performance the power of a consummate actress, clever dancing, a sweet and musical voice, and in her German dialect is in the feminine as a par with Joe Emmet. The company will appear at the Victoria Theatre this evening.

Twelve Temptations.

Geo. H. Murray, thinking there were not enough temptations in Victoria, has brought us twelve more. He will display them at the Victoria next week. The revival of "The Twelve Temptations" after a lapse of eighteen years and upon such a stupendous scale, is the most striking illustration possible of the advance in the methods of spectacular production. Eighteen years ago such a production was only possible in New York and some of the larger cities. Elegant costumes greatly enrich a stage production. Those worn in "The Twelve Temptations" are of the most brilliant and artistic. The vesture of the "Ballet of Nations" is very novel and striking, being a combination of armor, silk and satin, each costume representing a nation.

Riparian Rights.

It was pointed out in THE TIMES some weeks ago that riparian rights were not respected in the new fishery regulations applying to the Fraser. Farmers living along the river and accustomed to catch a sufficient number of salmon for their own use, were debarred under the new fisheries law from obtaining a license this year and therefore could not fish. The result is proper representations having been made to the department by the proper authorities telegraphic instructions have been given to the fishery inspector to issue licenses to bona fide farmers owning land on the river front, for the purpose of catching fish for their own special use, but not for sale, barter, or traffic. These licenses will be issued at the reduced fee of $2, and any farmer regularly entitled may obtain a license by applying at once at the inspector's office.

The Westminster Southern.

The News says an agreement has been reached whereby Nelson Bennett, a comparatively recent figure on the scene, has purchased a controlling interest if not an absolute ownership in the Westminster Southern and will henceforth direct its affairs. He is a wealthy resident of the coast, and has extensive railway interests. Senator Canfield has been bought out for $23,000, and thus sinks from view. However, it is said that he being an extensive land owner along the line will still make well out of it. The extent of his investment in the railway may be judged by the amount required to buy him off. It is now stated that successful negotiations in the past were prevented by the deposed gentleman desiring to remain manager. The scheme now is, it is understood, to extend the line to Portland on the south and to make Vancouver the northern terminus through the acquisition of the charter for the Vancouver-Westminster proposed short line.

ATTEMPT TO SUICIDE.

A Woman Residing on View Street Swallows a Bottle of Medicine.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the wife of the cook at the Driard House made an attempt to commit suicide by swallowing the contents of a large bottle of medicine. Dr. F. W. Hall was summoned immediately and took means to save the woman's life by hypodermic injections and the use of emetics. The woman was resting easily later in the afternoon at her residence on View street above Douglas. The bottle was prescribed by Dr. Hall to be taken in small doses, and was taken by the woman with suicidal intent. It is reported that the woman has an uncontrollable temper and made an attempt to murder her husband some days ago.

The cook at the hotel states that the woman did not intend to commit suicide, but pretended to drink the medicine. Instead of swallowing it she threw the fluid in the grate.

POLICE COURT.

(Before Hon. A. N. Richards, Q. C.)

John Hannon, charged by the same officer with infracting the street by-law. Fined $5.

Martin Willis, on a similar charge, paid a fine of $5.

Samuel Pierce, on remand, charged with embezzlement.

Mrs. Theresa Leonard said—I know the prosecutor and defendant; Pierce came to the house accompanied by witness on Monday for orders; paid him $14 for Mr. Schoen; this was in the forenoon; Pierce promised to bring a receipt; he brought groceries after that but did not bring a receipt; he was at my house three times on Monday.

To His Honor—Spoke to Mr. Schoen about the receipt on Tuesday; when Mr. Schoen called asked him for the receipt; Mr. Schoen said he did not know anything about the receipt. The account produced (which was taken from Pierce when he was arrested) is the bill handed to Pierce; prisoner brought the bill to the residence; paid Pierce twice before; gave him the bills before; they were returned receipted by Mr. Schoen; sometimes the bills were returned a day or two after handing them with the money to Pierce.

Sigismand Schoen said he saw Pierce on Monday last; he brought an order from Mrs. Leonard; he paid over no money; Pierce booked the order; have not seen the account since it was given to Pierce for delivery; generally receipt all bills at once and send them back; after Pierce came out on bail he wanted to pay the $14; told him that witness did not have anything to do with the account; he paid $3.50 which was collected during the illness of witness; saw Pierce before his arrest; he was standing at a table in a saloon on Government street; saw money on the table; gambling was going on; Chief Sheppard arrested him; he ran at witness and struck witness three times.

To His Honor—Pierce did not tell witness that he received the money. He left the employ of witness on Monday; did not discharge him; witness had it on his mind to discharge Pierce and he knew it.

Mr. Bellyea asked the protection of the court for Mr. Schoen.

His Honor—He is well able to take care of himself.

To Charles Wilson—Received a letter from Pierce on Monday stating that he was unwell and would return to work at noon; threw the letter away; after seeing Mrs. Leonard witness went home and afterwards communicated with the police; asked Pierce when he was arrested: "What's the matter with Mrs. Leonard's money." Was struck by Pierce; told the chief to handcuff the prisoner; told Supt. Sheppard that he would hear of it if he did not put handcuffs on Pierce; was not excited when Mrs. Leonard said the money was paid; was surprised; was 27 days in the hospital; sent Pierce to the lawyer when he offered to pay the money.

To His Honor—Pierce did not say anything in the letter about the money.

At this stage of the proceedings the case was remanded until to-morrow.

The prisoner was then charged on remand with embezzling $10 on the 15th of June.

Mrs. Gibb gave evidence that she had sent $10 to Schoen's store, receipt produced had been given by prisoner to her.

Mr. Wilson asked whether it would be in order to adjourn the case.

His Honor remanded Pierce until to-morrow without bail.

CITY SCHOOL BOARD.

Important Business Transacted—New Teachers Appointed, Etc.

An adjourned meeting of the School Board was held last evening. Present: Mr. Chas. Hayward in the chair, Trustees Morrison, Mallandaine, Erskine and Col. Wolfenden and Heisterman.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Miss Keast, at present in California, applying for a fortnight's leave of absence at the first of next term provided she found a suitable substitute. Granted.

Three applications for appointments on the teaching staff were read, and on motion received.

Col. Wolfenden stated that the education department had decided to postpone the opening of the schools from August 5th to 12th.

COMMITTEE SESSIONS.

The chairman asked if it was the wish of the Board in future to go into committee when questions, such as appointments on the teaching staff, come up for consideration. In the past it had been thought best, as it was not necessary for the public to know what reasons the Board had in making their selections of teachers. A knowledge of what transpired at such meetings should not be given to the public, and it was for this reason that private meetings, that of Tuesday evening for one, was held by the Board. All that had been said or done at the last meeting referred to, had, in some manner, become public property. He himself had been approached by one of the applicants for a teacher's position, who repeated word for word certain things he (Mr. Hayward) had said at the last meeting. If what transpired at the meetings of the Board in committee was to be made public, he thought it would be best to give publicity to whatever was done in the usual manner—through the press. Evidently some member of the Board, now present, had told what had transpired at the last meeting.

Trustees Mallandaine and Morrison explained that it was possible for an interested party to listen at the window to what transpired. They thought that it must have been in this way that the public obtained any knowledge they might possess of what transpired at the meeting.

They moved that the board again go into committee with closed doors.

The resolution carried. Yeas—Morrison, Mallandaine, Erskine and Wolfenden. Nay—Heisterman.

In committee of the whole, Mr. Hayward in the chair, the following were appointed to the positions mentioned, on the teaching staff:

Mr. Walter Hunter, B. A., of Nanaimo, to the position of first assistant of the boys' school, vacated by the resignation of Mr. D. E. Kerr.

Miss Katie Todd, promoted to Hillside ward school.

Miss Forest, transferred from Rock Bay ward school to James Bay ward school.

Miss Storey, transferred from James Bay ward school to Spring Ridge ward school.

Miss Horton, transferred from Spring Ridge ward school to Rock Bay ward school.

Miss Wolfenden, promoted to 5th Division, Boys' school, vice Miss Todd.

Miss Elizabeth E. Sylvester, appointed to the 7th Division, Boys' school, vice Miss Wolfenden.

There were between twenty-five and thirty applicants for the two vacant positions, and twenty-eight ballots were required before the appointments were made.

The board adjourned at 10:30 p. m.

Cutlery.

The Bathing Season.

The bathing season may now be said to be at its height and every evening groups of men and boys clothed in regulation dress can be seen taking a plunge in the waters of the arm. The sport is one that should receive every encouragement, there being none more healthy and possibly more useful. The number who cannot swim notwithstanding that they live by the water all their lives, is very large though it is scarcely realized till some accident occurs by which a life is lost through the man or boy not being able to swim even a stroke or two. There are doubtless well nigh half the men and boys in Victoria to-day who cannot support themselves on the surface of the water and yet none ever had better opportunities of learning. Besides what could be more exhilirating than swimming in salt water when it is not too cold, what more pleasing sensation than that which the boy experiences as he strikes out realizing that he has conquered a new element? The rules for learning to swim are few, simple and natural, and the parent who does not endeavor to see them taught to his boys does not do his whole duty to them.

Insurance Case Settled.

A settlement in full was made by the Guardian Insurance company on Thursday with Stephen Jones. The company agreed to pay $4,000 for the loss by fire of the International hotel at Esquimalt. Each party will pay their own costs and all litigation will be stopped. Mr. Jones thus emerges from the legal fight with quite as much credit as the company. It will now be in order for the agents of the Guardian in this city to count up the indirect loss sustained by the company. A suit to resist payment—unless taken on the clearest evidence and sustained in court—is not the best sort of an advertisement for an insurance company. It will be fresh in the memory of the public that Mr. Jones got two separate verdicts by special juries in his favor, and that Sir Matthew Begbie overruled the finding of both juries. Not only did he absolutely reverse the verdicts but he gave costs to the Insurance company. The irony of the situation is complete. The Guardian Insurance company now overrules the decision of Sir Matthew and actually pays about $600 more than the sum awarded by the jury, which sum will pay the costs of Mr. Jones. Thus the verdict of the two juries has been most fully carried out in spite of the wonderful reversal of their decision by the Chief Justice.
